

Sliding door on Panovision 4 saisons solariums
Sometimes, the sliding door seems heavy and is hard to open and close.

This could be caused by it sliding directly on the sill.
Adjust the height of the wheels under the door.

At the bottom, on each side, there is a screw that permits to adjust the height of the wheels on which the door is rested.
(Square headed no 10 screw).

Lift the door slightly so that it doesn't rest entirely on the wheels and turn the screw clockwise to raise the door.

Another cause could be that it is too tight in the top of the doorframe.
If so, take out the gray brush located at the exterior.

To be able to pull out the brush, cut open, about 12 inches long with an X-acto knife.
